Board against Nameoki Rd. construction due to traffic

A recommendation to ban new construction along Nameoki Road from Johnson Road to Ponton Road will be presented to the Granite City Council tonight by Dave Morgan, chairman of the Granite City Plan Commission.

In a letter to the City Council, Morgan cites increasing traffic congestion and a lack of proper traffic controls in that area. The letter has received the unanimous endorsement of the Plan Commission members, he said.

The text of the letter follows: "A discussion was held by members of the Plan Commission at its last meeting relative to the congested area on Nameoki Road between Johnson Road and Ponton Road. The congestion in this area has not reached its peak at the present time.

"With the opening of the Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center, the full impact of congestion will be realized and is going to compound the problems that are currently existing on Nameoki Road.

"I know that all the members of the city council are aware of the above conditions, so I will not go into detail on the subject.

"It was the unanimous decision of the members of the Plan Commission to recommend to the City Council that a moratorium be declared on any future zoning and construction on Nameoki Road between Johnson Road and Ponton Road, until such time as the traffic pattern on Nameoki Road is regulated by traffic lights or Nameoki Road is widened.

"The only exception to the moratorium would be the (proposed) new Madison County Federal Savings and Loan building. A commitment on this building has been given by the City Council."

In addition to recommending the moratorium, the Plan Commission recommended that a request for a change of zoning for a new Denny's Restaurant proposed for Nameoki Road at Cottage Avenue, be denied on the basis of traffic congestion and objections from residents of the area.

Two sets of petitions on the restaurant were presented to the commission, one with 50 signatures against its approval and another with the signatures of 11 persons in favor of the restaurant.

The petitioners requested that the restaurant be denied a license to operate until such time as the traffic pattern on Nameoki Road is regulated by traffic lights or Nameoki Road is widened.

The petitioners also requested that the restaurant be denied a license to operate until such time as the traffic pattern on Nameoki Road is regulated by traffic lights or Nameoki Road is widened.

plan. The restaurant request was submitted by Ray Kozielek, president of Combined Investments, requesting a C-1 commercial zoning rather than the present R-2 single family dwelling classification for the property which includes 3516 Nameoki Road and 1508 Cottage Ave.

The petition for the restaurant and the Plan Commission's recommendation to deny it also will come before the city council tonight.

In other business, the commission recommended approval of a petition from the Knights of Pythias for special use permit for a building at 2723 Madison Ave., to be used as a Pythian Temple.

The commission recommended denial of two requests, one from Richard C. Stille requesting a business classification rather than the present R-5 multiple family dwelling classification at 2427 Madison Ave., for an auto parts store, and the other from James E. Walker asking for a special use permit at 736 Twenty-seventh Place to operate an aluminum siding business from his home.

Petitions from neighbors opposing the two requests were accepted by the commission.

Deputy gets 2nd chance

A Madison County grand jury Thursday afternoon recommended that no legal action be taken in Madison County Circuit Court concerning theft of test papers from Lewis and Clark Community College Feb. 21 by law enforcement personnel in a law enforcement class.

The grand jury noted that the junior college conducted an investigation of the incident and suspended students of the law enforcement classes believed to be involved.

Results of the college's investigation were sent to the office of the state's attorney on April 4 and that office sent the information to the Madison County sheriff's department for appropriate disciplinary action, the jury found.

Meanwhile, Deputy Norman Pilka of Godfrey on Friday was demoted to probationary deputy for six months, suspended without pay for 30 days and given a letter of reprimand by the Merit Commission.

Sheriff John Maeras said Pilka will be given a second chance due to an otherwise good record.

The matter pertaining to the improper securing of college examinations by law enforcement personnel in the law enforcement program at Lewis and Clark College has been appropriately handled as an internal problem, according to the jury's findings Thursday.

Seek summer jobs for youth

Four hundred or more job seekers between 14 and 21 years of age will need summer employment in the Quad-Cities, Illinois Department of Labor projections indicated today.

"We are contacting 493 organizations and groups as well as 1,106 employers through mailed materials and personal visits this month to develop job orders suited to youth," manpower representative Jim Bowman of the Illinois State Employment Service office in Granite City said.

A. MacMillan of Coordinated Youth Services and Bowman are also contacting city leaders throughout the Quad-Cities and will work closely with the National Alliance of Businessmen in identifying, developing and filling summer jobs for youth.

"Many of the young people who seek summer jobs must earn money for school and college expenses," Bowman said.

Try smaller police autos

Purchase by the City of Granite City of two mid-sized cars for police use, rather than units specially manufactured with heavy-duty frames, seat construction and motors, is the first step in an experiment to determine the feasibility of switching the police department's entire automotive fleet to cars of lighter-weight construction, officials reported today.

The experiment is in line with a trend by many police departments to forego specially designed cars on the assumption that standard autos will be adequate for police work because the nation generally is switching to lighter-weight cars, according to Alderman Gerald Farnley.

He is chairman of the City Council's police committee, which recommended buying the two new police cars "off the floor" rather than buying custom-made units.

The two new police cars, purchased by the City Council are Dodge Coronets, mid-sized units equipped with sirens, red lights and gun racks, and will be used as command cars, Farnley said.

They replace two 1970 station wagons that had been used as canine patrol cars which no longer are needed because of elimination of the use of police dogs under this year's departmental reorganization plan.

Parmley said the two new standard-type cars will not be used to carry prisoners but will be used for regular police patrol work to determine how adequately they meet police needs in all types of police operations.

Firefighting is assured

Legal proceedings in an effort to secure a court order directing the Madison County Clerk's office to extend a 1973 tax rate for the Long Lake Fire Protection District were proposed Thursday night in a meeting of the Long Lake Vets. Fire Department.

The suggestion came in a meeting in which fire department officials and members discussed the effect that the lack of a tax extension will have this year. No rate has been extended for tax collections this summer because the fire protection district failed to file a tax levy, according to the county clerk's office.

Fire Department President Charles Kennerly and Fire Chief John Karlechik joined in an announcement that the problem in no way will deter the department's fire protection services in Ponton Beach and unincorporated Nameoki areas which the fire department serves.

"We will provide the same efficient services we always have given," Kennerly said. "The fire department, a volunteer unit, operates with funds provided by the fire protection district. The district is administered by a three-man board of trustees.

Department officials said during the meeting that the possibility of a mandamus proceeding in circuit court as a means of forcing a rate extension, and subsequent tax collections, is being considered, but that no final decision will be made until attorneys for the fire department and the fire (Continued on Page 2) offering a $350 lump sum raise for the current school year and a 3 per cent raise for the 1974-75 year, plus an additional 3 per cent that year contingent upon voter approval of a tax rate increase in the educational fund.

This offer was under study today by the teachers, members of American Federation of Teachers Local 965. The board had received no answer on its proposal this morning.

Jack Tolliver, president of the school board, said the proposal by the teachers for 5.9 and 10 per cent raises would cost the school district $100,000 over the two years.

He emphasized that any increase given the teachers will be in "borrowed money," and noted that the latest proposal by the board would bring the Venice teachers' salary schedule $8,580 to $15,688, placing the schedule among the five top schools in Madison County.

second-low bid price of $7,950 after the low bidder, B. E. Hohl, Inc., with an offer of $6,240, notified the City Council that it was unable to provide the units within a ten-day delivery requirement, part of the bidding specifications. The purchase was financed with federal revenue sharing funds.

Parmentry said the ten-day delivery was required because the two station wagon units were virtually inoperable for police work and that the police department needed immediate replacements.

He said that at the time the bids were sought, the command cars of the police chief and assistant chief were pressed into use for patrol work and one police officer was using his personal car.

One of the station wagons had a broken frame and the other had a bad transmission that was using large quantities of transmission fluid each day, said Both. These units were traded in the acquisition of the new mid-sized cars.

Parmentry said that if standard autos prove adequate for police work, the city would save "Many thousands of dollars not only in the purchase of police cars but also because of the economy in their operation and maintenance."

He said the difference in price between standard units and specially designed cars is about $800 each.

"Because of the increase in gasoline costs, we don't anticipate a reduction in expenditures for gasoline," he said. "We do figure that the city could hold the line at its present costs because of the better mileage of the lighter weight cars."

Parmentry said officials are keeping in touch with results of a survey by the St. Louis Police Department which he added, "is considering a plan to switch completely to six-cylinder cars."

worthy of any criminal prosecution, it being questionable if technical felony was involved."

The report continued, the matter "is not one which is capable of any criminal offense . . . for being a student, including law enforcement personnel, to improperly use college examinations."

The jury recommended that information be communicated to the employers, for disciplinary action.

The matter was among issues disputed last week by Robert J. Urban of Troy, Republican sheriff nominee who will oppose the re-election of Democratic Sheriff John Maeras in November.

On Friday, officials of the sheriff's department disagreed with the suspended deputy that high sheriff's department officials acted improperly in the matter.

The sheriff's department investigation into the incident was concluded Friday and found that proper channels had been followed in handling the incident.

A deputy believed involved was suspended by Maeras April 9, only after the college concluded its investigation.

Among Urban's statements during a department official was that a deputy was present when the suspended deputy admitted taking test papers.

A statement also was disputed that the deputy must have had an understanding with higher-ranking deputies, concerning hopes of promotion or transfer to the detective division in order for him to want to take the papers.

The official said neither he nor another official had contact with the suspended deputy prior to the date of the incident except that one official attended one class with the suspended deputy.

It is untrue that both officials attended the same class as the suspended deputy, it was asserted Friday.

He also said the theft incident was brought to light by the sheriff's deputy, not a city policeman, as Urban had said. "I think it was in poor taste that the G.O.P. candidate would release this kind of information to the press before he confirmed it. He is going on hearsay evidence," the official said.

"If it is the man who wants to hold the sheriff's post, he had better find out the difference between accusation and fact. He is trying to be lawyer, judge and jury on this incident," the official concluded.

William Schooley, attorney for the protection district, contends the state law provided authority for the county clerk to extend a new tax rate on the basis of the previous year's tax levy, but a spokesman at the clerk's office said a tax levy must be filed each year within statutory deadline dates to authorize a tax rate and the collection of taxes.

Schooley and Nick Vassileff, attorney for the Long Lake Fire Department, are expected to confer this week on the possibility of legal proceedings.

Home owners safety month

A month-long campaign designed to alert home owners and individuals to what they can do to make their homes safer and protect themselves as much as possible against robberies and assaults, as well as handling emergencies in the home, was launched in the metropolitan area Sunday.

Veterans' Fair planned Saturday

The Office of Veterans' Affairs at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will sponsor a Veterans' Fair beginning at 10 a.m. Saturday, May 11, in the University Center.

The fair will include booths manned by community agencies and organizations to answer questions concerning veterans, recreation in the University Center, movies and other entertainment.

Elected representatives will be at a reception to talk with interested persons.

According to Terry Campbell of the Office of Veterans' Affairs at SIUE, the purpose of the fair is to give veterans and the general public the opportunity to find out about veterans' benefits and issues prevalent in the veterans' world.

Each of the pamphlets provides recommendations made by outstanding authorities in home safety and law enforcement.

The pamphlets discuss what can be done to make it tougher for burglars to enter homes, how to do something about personal safety on the streets, and how to handle emergencies at home if and when someone is injured.

In announcing the program, Saul Krawil, executive director of the St. Louis-based national NFL Network, said, "While no one knows all the answers to preventing burglaries and robberies, authorities in the field of law enforcement have developed a series of proven suggestions, and ideas which have, in actual practice, reduced the frequency of crime and personal assaults."

"These are subjects of vital concern to everyone—to learn to protect his home and his person better and to help make their entire neighborhood a better and a safer place to live for themselves and for their families."

The pamphlets encourage cooperation with the local police and other agencies, while making specific suggestions. Krawil also said, "Frequently, accidents in the home have worse results than they should have, chiefly because we are unaware of what to do in an emergency. One of the booklets supplied by our members will tell you about what to do."

"All the books are supplied free of charge, and we hope to distribute them not only through our own efforts, but also through the police, fire department, Boy Scouts, and other civic groups."

"We believe the time has come," said Krawil, "when every company has an obligation to make a contribution to better living in their community. We think this is one way we can do it."

The "Homes for Living" network comprises over 900 real estate offices in all 50 states and Puerto Rico. They are all cooperating in the program of public service.

To obtain the booklets, Quad-City residents may contact the George Petrie Agency at 1308 W. Delmar Ave., Godfrey, 62035, phone (618) 466-0542.

Tests for potential tax board members

A new state law may require a change in the makeup of the three-member Madison County Board of Review, the body which hears complaints from citizens and industries about property valuations and acts on real estate and personal property assessments proposed by township assessors.

Present members are Nelson Hagauer of Granite City as chairman of the Madison County Board, and two appointees, Donald McLean, Edwardsville Township Democratic chairman, and Virgil Bardelmeier, a Pin Oak Township Republican.

The law requires that applicants for the board take rigid tests on property appraisal and property tax administration, with the highest scorers from the tests give priority consideration for appointment.

The first tests will be given at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday, May 8, in the Madison County Board room in the County Courthouse at Edwardsville. New appointments to the board are to be made before June 1.

Colonial Haven addition

Plans to construct a second building at the Colonial Haven Nursing Home, 3800 Stearns Ave., were revealed in a decision and order by the regional director of the National Labor Relations Board. The second building would be identical to the first, according to the NLRB.

The order recognized that construction is due to begin soon on a second building at the facility, identical to the present building, which will double the capacity of the nursing home.

The order revealed information submitted to the NLRB that the state Comprehensive State Health Planning Agency has granted Colonial Haven Nursing Home, Inc., permission to proceed with capital expenditures for construction and that loan arrangements for financing have been approved.

The same general contractor, Charles Wood Co. of Belleville was to submit a bid for construction of the second building, according to the NLRB order.

The buildings are to contain

122 beds each and will be connected by a covered corridor, it was revealed.

A total of 195 unit employees would fill 25 job classifications when both buildings are completed and fully staffed. For the first building, the staff of 129 employees, including 96 unit employees (cooks, housekeepers, clerks, nurses aides and other helpers).

The remaining employees are administration and professional (nurses, doctors, technicians, and others) workers.

The decision also disclosed that last month the home was receiving gross revenue of about $40,000 per month.

The order was issued in conjunction with an attempt by unit employees to join Service Employees International Local 50. The request was dismissed by the NLRB because it was not felt the request, filed by 62 employees, of which 18 held part-time positions, was representative of what the final number of unit employees will be when the second building is completed and staffed, according to Joseph H. Solien, regional director of Region 14, NLRB. The unit employees went on strike April 27.

20 schools in North district golf tourney

Twenty schools, including GCHS North and South, will vie in the Granite City North district golf tournament Friday at Arlington Heights.

Also entered are Alton Senior and Alton Marquette, Bethalto, Carlisle, Collinsville, Edwardsville, Girard, Jerseyville, Litchfield, Mount Olive, Northwestern of Palmyra, Roxana, Triad of St. Jacob, Virden, North Greene of White Hall and Wood River.

Looking ahead to the state meet, the challenges of the Orange and Blue courses at the University of Illinois' Savoy layout may be coming to an end when qualifiers from a field that includes 433 downstate and suburban schools advance to the final spring Illinois High School Association boys' golf tournament May 24-25.

Competition gets under way this week at 24 district sites. The first three teams and the top five individuals at the sectional tournaments on May 18.

Top three teams and top five individuals at the sectional level advance to the state final meet. In addition, the top team and top two individuals from the Chicago Public League qualifying tournament earn berths in the field at Savoy.

"There's absolutely no question that the two courses together play a lot tougher in the spring of the year," said Golf Coach Ladd Fash.

"It's just a guess, but I'd say the difference on the two courses is a 6,883-yard layout with two of 36-72-121 alone is from two to four strokes more in the spring than in the fall."

Fash described the two-course layout, which will be the site of the fall golf tournament series next Oct. 25-26, as "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" fantasy between May and October.

"The courses are in their best condition from mid-August until the end of the season," he observed.

"The wind factor is much less in the fall than it is in the spring, and there is not as much moisture to contend with. Those two factors, plus the ability of the golfers to improve from the beginning of the golf season to the end, really can make a difference between plain survival and scoring well."

The Orange and Blue Courses have been site of the IHSAA boys' state final golf tournament for many years. "Savoy probably comes as close to being a truly neutral layout as there is in the state," Fash commented.

"Local knowledge isn't really that much of a factor because the courses change so dramatically from spring to fall."

What must a young player do in order to become state champion this spring?

"The Blue Course (a 6,371-yard par 36-37-73 layout) is much simpler to solve than the Orange," Fash said. "There are more than the normal amount of par five holes, which gives a player a chance to catch up against par. But a player still must be cautious in the spring."

"The Orange Course always offers golfers a strong test. A player with a good short iron game will generally be in good shape in the state tournament. The greens are small, but they're pretty uniform. A golfer has to try to get on them first, and then shoot for par."

"Probably the most important factor, though, is that the golfer absolutely has to know the distances on the holes and believe in them when he shoots a shot."

"Young golfers have a tendency to play more by feel than with the mind. That is probably the worst thing to do in the spring state tournament, because of the situation of the elevated greens on the Orange Course."

Recent individual champions, according to Fash, have displayed one common trait. "The state champion has been the young golfer who doesn't lose his cool over the weekend."

"They have been the ones who do not let a bad shot throw them out of their whole pattern. A golfer must try to hold his mistakes to a minimum. I've watched most of the players in the State Tournament, and the majority have been keen competitors."

"What has really impressed me is the overall conduct of the players and their coaches. It is evident they come to Championship with one thought on their minds, and the play has shown it."

Jerry Vidovic of Blue Island Elementary claimed last year's individual title with a 72-74-146 total, edging Waukegan's Dave Ogryn by a stroke. Belleville West took the 1973 team title with a score of 619.

Final one-class state track meet May 24-25

Member schools in the Illinois High School Association (IHSA) will battle for the last one-class team title in the 90th annual boys' state track and field meet May 24-25 on the lightning-fast Lincoln Field all-weather track on the campus of Eastern Illinois University, Charleston.

Beginning next spring (school year 1974-75), the IHSA will conduct a two-class boys' track meet series. Schools will be classified on the basis of enrollment that has produced the Class A and AA state basketball and wrestling tournaments.

Schools with enrollments of 750 or less will compete in the Class A series. Schools with enrollments of 751 or more will compete in the Class AA series.

For a 10-year span, from the 1914 meet through the 1925 meet—with no competition held during World War I—the state track and field meet series was conducted on a two-class basis.

Since then including this season, a one-class series has been conducted. Over the past 40 years, no school or shared A enrollment has won or shared the state title.

"At its most recent meeting, the board voted to initiate the two-class system of competition in boys' track and field. We are hopeful such competition will be as successful as our programs in basketball and wrestling," said Executive Secretary Harry Fitzhugh.

"Based on the recommendation of our track advisory committee, and from the support of the principals of member schools, Springfield Southeast will have its work cut out in defending the team championship it won last spring in the first-ever Illinois High School Association girls' state track meet.

Why? Because the number of schools entered in district level competition this year has jumped from 222 to a whopping 463, including Granite City High School North and South.

Led by Kim Schofield, who won three events and anchored the Spartans' winning 440-yard pursuit relay team, Southeast scored 20 points in 1973 to edge Park Ridge (Maine South), which amassed 15. Miss Schofield last year won the 55 and 100-yard dashes and the long jump.

Competition will get under way at 17 district sites the weekend of May 10-11. Twenty-six schools, including GCHS South and North, will compete at Cahokia Friday.

The top two finishers in each of the 15 events, plus those performers placing third, fourth or fifth who meet or surpass the qualifying standards, advance to the second annual girls' state final track and field championship meet.

It is scheduled for the weekend of May 17-18 on the all-weather track at Lincoln Field, Eastern Illinois University, Charleston.

Preliminaries will begin at noon May 17. The finals are set to start at noon May 18, with an opening ceremony at 11:30 a.m.

We feel the two-class state and field competition will provide a dramatic increase in interest and participation in the sport throughout the state."

The last school with a Class A enrollment to win a state title was Endered in 1925, the final year of the previous two-class system. Only school with a Class A enrollment ever to win the one-class team championship in track and field was Beggsville in 1899 and 1900.

Only four of 47 schools scoring points in the 1973 state meet had enrollments of 750 or less. They were Lebanon (405 enrollment), which tied for sixth with 10 points on the basis of the performance by distance runner Craig Virgin; Mt. Morris (382); and for 20th with 4 points, and Stillman Valley (432), and ABL of Broadlands (116), tied for 27th with 3 points each.

With Roger Smith as coordinator, Granite City High School South will host district play Saturday involving 11 schools, including host South and cross-town rival GCHS North.

Only 10 per cent of the 653 boys who competed in last year's state final meet were from Class A schools.

East St. Louis Lincoln and LaGrange Lyons shared the 1973 team title with 16 points each. Lincoln's enrollment last year was 1,130. Lyons had a student body of 5,217.

A record 617 schools have entered the 1974 series—242 big and 375 little schools.

Secretary Harry Fitzhugh. "Last year's state final meet was exciting, and this year's could be outstanding. I'm anxious to see the finals. The record book could take a beating."

Last year, only five of the 252 schools entered were from the Chicago Public League. This year, 52 Chicago schools, plus 411 downstate and suburban schools, have entered the first level of competition.

Top four finishers from the Public League qualifying meet will advance to Charleston, and the fifth-place finishers who meet the qualifying standards also will advance.

Miss Schofield rates as the favorite in her specialty, the long jump. She won last year with a leap of 19 feet, 4 1/2 inches, which is 6 1/2 inches beyond the recognized National Federation U.S. record.

30 district tennis meets on Saturday include GCHS South

The chase for the team championship in the 1974 Illinois High School Association (IHSA) boys' tennis tournament could be a sizzler because of changes in the tournament format, which will allow all members of the winning team at the district level to advance to the state final tournament.

Competitors from 249 downstate and suburban schools will enter districts at 30 sites Saturday, May 11.

All members of district championship teams, plus the winners and runners-up in both singles and doubles, advance to the state tournament May 23-25 at Arlington Heights High School, Arlington Heights.

In previous years, only the top two in singles and doubles in the districts advanced to the state tournament. Teams consist of two singles players and two doubles tandems.

With Roger Smith as coordinator, Granite City High School South will host district play Saturday involving 11 schools, including host South and cross-town rival GCHS North.

Also entered here are Alton, Bethalto, Collinsville, Edwardsville, Jerseyville, Lebanon, Roxana, Wood River, and Trid of St. Jacob.

The increased participation at the state tournament has necessitated addition of a preliminary round in both singles and doubles Thursday evening, May 23, before survivors of that round, and the top 10 seeds in singles and doubles, square off Friday.

Losers in competition Friday, May 24, eliminated in the past, will be placed in a consolation bracket and will battle to determine consolation honors.

"The changes that have been made in the past few years, especially the changes made for this year, help improve the tournament," said Tom Pritchard, tennis coach at Arlington Heights (Arlington) and manager of the state tournament.

"We're trying to get more emphasis on the team aspect. The advancement of complete district championship teams, plus the establishment of the consolation bracket, should go a long way in deciding the top team in the state."

Last year, powerhouse Highland Park and Hinsdale 15 points, while Galesburg's Dave Parker won in singles and the duo of Jim Merkel and John Fackowski of Arlington Hts. (Arlington) captured doubles.

"Some good teams have lost individuals through district play because they ran up against outstanding performers," observed Hinsdale (Central) Coach Jay Kramer.

The goal should be to determine a team champion and this seems to be a good way to do it."

Noted Coach Bill Ratliff of Highland Park: "It's tough to spot a team like Hinsdale (Central) one player. This should be more of a test of who has the best team."

Joining district qualifiers will be the top four singles players and doubles teams and the winning school from the Chicago Public League tournament.

STEAL GAS STOVE

A gas stove was stolen from a vacant apartment at 1604 Kirkpatrick Homes, after the glass in the front door was broken, it was reported last week.

REMOVING WINDSHIELD requires covering the trapped victim, Miss Peggy Lee, inside auto, for protection. Demonstrating the proper technique of loosening and removing glass is Steve Roberts, left, an instructor with the Illinois Rescue Training Institute at Illinois State University, Normal. At right are Anthony Marquez, Emergency Medical Services regional coordinator, light shirt, and Steve Stamps, a Long Lake fireman who assisted in the instruction. ## Training owned tract of land near the Granite City Humane Shelter on Highway 3.

Through actual performance, the trainees learned how much more quickly and safely an injured person can be extricated from a badly damaged auto by removing a door or a windshield. How to dismantle the auto efficiently was part of the action.

Various cutting tools and techniques were utilized as Roberts sought to impart his knowledge and skills to the students in a well-illuminated and dramatic sequence lasting into the night hours.

In general, the course consists of 25 lessons and 10 hours of in-hospital training requiring a total of 81 hours, Marquez explained.

The first lesson is devoted to an overview of the Emergency Medical Technician's job, a description of the course and a general review of anatomy and physiology.

In the following weeks, the EMT trainees receive instruction in life-threatening emergencies, injuries, common medical emergencies, childbirth, problems of child patients, lifting and moving patients, environmental emergencies, extrication from automobiles and operational aspects of the Emergency Medical Technician's job and responsibilities, Marquez said.

Each lesson provides a period of time for the practice of skills taught and certain critical skills are practiced repeatedly to ensure proficiency, the coordinator noted.

The course includes six different lessons involving cardiopulmonary resuscitation practices and evaluation, and in-hospital training and observation is a recommended part of the instruction, especially in such areas as the emergency room and trauma center, he explained.

Based primarily on the text "Emergency Care and Transportation of the Sick and Injured," prepared by the American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons, the lesson plans are augmented with different teaching aids, such as films, slides and supplementary references. Each student is provided a copy of the "Emergency Care" textbook, Marquez said.

Lessons are conducted by physicians and trauma coordinators with instructors and instructor aides responsible for the development of student skills and for evaluating students for attachment of students.

The latter personnel are experienced in emergency, or a specialist in his field; skilled in the use and maintenance of all equipment required in his subject, the course coordinator stressed.

Those teaching the most recent course were Marquez, Dr. Robert Lay, St. Elizabeth Hospital trauma surgeon; Dr. A. Hazzaz, C. D. Davey, safety director at St. Joseph Hospital, Alton; Dr. Felicia D. Koch, Dr. Robert D. Blanshard, Curt Jackson, chief of respiratory therapy at St. Elizabeth Hospital; Larry Ashby, emergency room technician and Roberts of the Illinois Rescue Training Institute.

The Emergency Medical Technician Program is not limited to ambulance attendants, as many initially envisioned, Marquez explained.

The program is highly recommended for all firemen, policemen and rescue squad members.

One Granite City policeman, discussing aspects of the training, commented, "I think all police officers should take this course. The situations we run into on the job everyday require this type of in-depth training."

He referred specifically to sections of the course dealing with extrication, accident victims and a segment taught by Dr. Felicia D. Koch involving emergency childbirth.

"I haven't had to deliver any babies yet," he said.

DETACH DOOR FIRST proves to be the practical answer to rescue problems encountered by EMT trainees attempting here to move Mrs. Carol Murray, president of the St. Elizabeth Hospital Auxiliary, from the wrecked auto. GC Patrolman Robert Krause, inside car, and Steve Roberts, instructor, lift the victim onto a backboard held by Donald Crabb of Southern Illinois University Ambulance Service, Edwardsville, at right. In background is Robert Burns of the SIUE Ambulance Service. (Press-Record Photo)

"But, I've always had the feeling that one of these days I may have to do it. I feel a lot better now I've had this training," he added.

Marquez said the in-hospital training is supplemented by actual training aboard ambulances and in some instances—helicopters. Air operations are discussed and demonstrated thoroughly, although this training is conducted while the vehicle is grounded.

Use of helicopters in civilian emergencies is rapidly expanding, the coordinator said. In the next few weeks the Emergency Medical Services coordinator is preparing to launch a "Heart Emergency Life Procedures" program with training compressed into less than three hours.

The program will be presented twice each month and will be open to any area resident wishing to take part, Marquez advised.

About 600 persons have received such training in the seven-county area under Marquez' jurisdiction, which includes Madison, St. Clair, Bond, Clinton, Washington, Randolph and Monroe counties. He also coordinates emergency training activities in the bi-state region.

Exams for conservation posts

Exams for conservation posts

First examination to fill vacancies in state conservation police officer positions under a merit board system will be held July 13, according to a joint announcement by Tony Dean, director of the Department of Conservation, and Nolan B. Jolly, director of the Department of Personnel.

The written examination will be conducted by the Department of Personnel, Jones said. Those who qualify and are hired will come under provisions of state civil service.

Applicants must be at least 21 years old, be high school graduates or have equivalent training, be in good physical condition and be willing to accept assignment anywhere in Illinois, Dean said.

Those who pass the initial written test will be called in for oral interviews, physical exams, psychological screening and background checking.

A limited number of vacancies are expected to be filled initially, said Dean, and the test is anticipated to provide personnel code lists from which to fill future vacancies.

Application blanks may be obtained from the Department of Conservation, Division of Personnel, Room 615, State Office Building, Springfield, Ill. 62706, and applications should be made by June 15.

Candidates who are accepted will spend six months as trainees, for in-shop training in pay grade nine, $616 per month, and six months as conservation police officers in pay grade 11, $684 monthly, as their probationary period.

Memorial Day observances—some May 27, some May 30

It seems like an easy decision. For untwenty years, Memorial Day has been set aside as a time to honor the war dead. Traditionally, the observance was held on May 30.

However, a few years ago, Congress—with a nod to the working class—rearranged many of the traditional holidays to fall on Mondays. Memorial Day was set for the last Monday in May.

But the President and Congress can legally designate holidays only for the District of Columbia and federal employees, and many states quickly became disenchanted with the new arrangement.

For example last year the Illinois General Assembly, after having once voted for the new date, voted to restore Memorial Day to May 30.

It sounds simple. But here's the situation.

All federal offices will close on Monday, May 27. That includes the post offices. Quad-City area stores also plan to close that day.

All state offices under the jurisdiction of Gov. Daniel Walker will close on Thursday, May 30.

And, since the bill amended the School Code, it also includes those public schools whose terms have not yet ended for the summer.

In some areas, many commercial businesses are having a hard time deciding when to close their doors. But most seem to be following the trend in Chicago, where a recent poll indicated that most will be closed on Monday, May 27.

The real winners appear to be those employees under Walker's jurisdiction. As an extra added bonus, state offices will be closed on Friday, May 31, too.

The Illinois holiday lineup has been revised repeatedly in the 1960s and 1970s.

Here's a look at the current official roster of state holidays: New Year's Day, Jan. 1 (if a holiday falls on a Saturday, it is observed on the previous Friday—if it falls on a Sunday, Monday is the official day-off; Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.'s birthday, Jan. 15; Lincoln's birthday, Feb. 12; Washington's birthday, third Monday in February; Memorial Day, May 30; Independence Day, July 4; Labor Day, first Monday in September; Columbus Day,

Deadline Friday in plate contest

Michael J. Howlett, secretary of state, has reminded Illinois students that Friday is the deadline for entering the State's Bicentennial license plate contest.

All Illinois grade and high school students have been invited to submit designs, and the 1976 Bicentennial plate will be determined from the winning student's entry.

Howlett explained that each entrant may submit only one design of a 12x6 inch horizontal format, with a written statement of 200 words or less explaining why particular colors or symbols were used.

The contest is divided into three divisions. The Red division includes grades one through four; White, grades five through eight; and the Blue division is for grades nine through 12.

The week is designated to promote awareness, understanding and support of exceptional children, she added.

The Tri-Cities Chapter includes teachers, administrators, nurses and other persons working in or interested in special education.

Controlled substances law in state covers variety of drugs

The Illinois Substances Act, which was adopted when members of the General Assembly recognized the rising incidence among the public in the abuse of drugs and other dangerous substances.

The Act can be found in the 1973 Illinois Revised Statutes, Chapter 56½, Section 1100.

The Act is aimed at controlling drugs of all types and establishes penalties for abuse of these substances.

As in the Cannabis (marijuana) Control Act, it was not the intent of the General Assembly to treat the unlawful user or occasional petty distributor with the same severity as the large-scale, unlawful traffickers of dangerous drugs.

Regulations for writing prescriptions and for use of drugs in the medical profession are described.

The term of "controlled substance" includes numerous drugs, the most common of which are heroin, cocaine, morphine, opium, opium poppy and poppy straw, amphetamine, lysergic acid diethylamide (LSD), phenobarbital, barbitol and chloral hydrate.

In determining classification of a controlled substance, the director of the Illinois Department of Law Enforcement must consider the actual or relative scientific evidence of its pharmacological effect.

The state of current scientific knowledge regarding the substance, the history and current pattern of abuse; the scope, duration and significance of abuse; the risk to public health.

The potential of the substance to produce psychological or physiological dependence; the immediate harmful effect in terms of potentially fatal dosage; and the long-range effects in terms of permanent health impairment.

Penalties for violation of the Act are severe and include: Conviction as a felony and imprisonment for not less than four years nor more than life and a fine of not more than $200,000.

This penalty applies to persons manufacturing, delivering or possessing 30 grams or more of heroin, lysergic acid diethylamide (LSD), cocaine and morphine; 1,000 grams or more of peyote; 200 grams or more of a derivative of barbituric acid or any of the salts of a derivative of this substance; or 200 grams or more of amphetamine or methamphetamine or its derivatives.

Anyone convicted of participating in a calculated criminal drug conspiracy is guilty of a felony and subject to imprisonment for four years to life and a fine of not more than $200,000.

A person 18 years of age or over who illegally delivers a controlled substance to a person under 18 years old, who is at least two years younger than the "pusher", may receive sentencing of up to twice the maximum penalty for a given drug.

O'Connell presidency effective on July 1

The Rev. Daniel C. O'Connell, S.J., elected as the 28th president of St. Louis University, has been a member of the university's psychology faculty since 1964.

He will succeed the Rev. Paul C. Reinert, S.J., who has been president for 25 years, one of the longest tenures for a university president in the nation.

The announcement was made by Daniel L. Schaffly, chairman of the university's board of trustees, after Father O'Connell's election by the board at its quarterly meeting.

Fr. O'Connell, 45, has been rector of the Jesuit Community at the university since last year. He will vacate that post when he becomes president.

He will assume the presidency July 1 and will be formally inaugurated after the next academic year begins.

Schaffly has commended Fr. William McCalpin, St. Louis attorney and member of the board of trustees, who headed the trustee search committee for a new president.

He also commended Dr. James F. Hitchcock, professor of history and chairman of the advisory committee to the search committee. The advisory committee consisted of faculty, students, staff, alumni and representatives of the community.

In 1972, Fr. Reinert announced he would leave the presidency to become chancellor so that he could devote full time to strengthening the many forms of support the university needs, and to enhancing the university's midtown environment.

He received bachelor's and master's degrees from St. Louis U. He received a licentiate of sacred theology in 1960 after completing a year of studies in ascetical theology in Austria. He was ordained in 1958.

Fr. O'Connell earned his Ph.D. degree in general experimental psychology from the University of Illinois in 1963, and spent two years at the Harvard University Center for Cognitive Studies as a National Science Foundation post-doctoral fellow. His research at Harvard, in the field of visual perception, was with the eminent scientist Dr. Jerome S. Bruner.

In more recent years, Fr. O'Connell has done extensive work in psychobiology and is internationally known in that field. In this work he spent a summer as a National Science Foundation Post-Doctoral Fellow at the University of Minnesota.

He spent the 1968-69 academic year at the Psychological Institute, Free University of Berlin as a Humboldt Fellow doing research in psychobiology.

A frequent contributor to scholarly journals, Fr. O'Connell has presented papers at scientific conferences in a number of countries. In the summer of 1972 he was visiting professor of psychology at the University of Melbourne.

He is a fellow of the American Psychological Association, and a member of a number of regional and specialized psychological and scientific associations, including the American Association for the Advancement of the Sciences.

He is a member of the Society of Sigma Xi and was recently elected an alumni member of Phi Beta Kappa.

In a statement, Fr. Reinert said, "I am extremely pleased with the trustees' choice of Fr. Dan O'Connell as the next president.

from every viewpoint: a Jesuit priest with deep dedication to the spiritual dimensions of Catholic higher education; a warm, outgoing person respected by faculty, students and staff alike; an outstanding teacher and excellent scholar with direct knowledge and experience of this institution; and, in these demanding days, a man with youthful enthusiasm and tireless energy."

Under Fr. Reinert's leadership, St. Louis U. has become recognized as one of the top ranking Catholic universities in the country.

In the mid-1960s, the Ford Foundation recognized the university's achievement and potential as a center of excellence in higher education when it selected it as one of 14 leading U.S. institutions for a major challenge grant.

Last year, the Danforth Foundation announced a $20 million matching grant to the university's endowment funds in recognition of its role "as an essential educational and service resource."

In 1967 St. Louis U. became the first major Catholic university in the country to recognize its board of trustees with a majority of laymen, giving laymen and clergy combined legal responsibility for institutional policy and operations.

During Fr. Reinert's presidency, the Pius XII Memorial Library and David P. Wohl Memorial Mental Health Hospital were built. Since 1969, the university has invested $38 million in new construction and modernization in the Mill Creek and adjacent midtown areas.

Church Women to hold state meet in region

Theme is "Peace—the Saving Possibility." Church Women United of Illinois will have Sister Mary Luke Tobin as the key assembly speaker and resource person. National director of citizen action of Church Women United, she has just returned from a "Causeway for Peace Building" meeting sponsored by CWU.

possibilities of new priorities and social patterns in international living.

Several other women from the Midwest, who were a part of Causeway will be present at the assembly to share experiences from the trip.

The opening session at 7:30 p.m. May 14 will begin with a procession of peace banners, church choirs and a liturgical dance by the Concert Dance Company, a nationally known dance group of SIUE.

Workshops including Bible study, leadership training, creative celebrations dealing with controversy and accepting diversity, displays, literature and movies will be available by registration. Mrs. J. Schmitz, 205 W. 14th St., Collinsville, will accept registration and provide information. Child care will be available, with the time "constructively programmed."

Grant allotted to collect data on Slavic societies

Stanley Kimball, professor of historical studies at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, has received a grant from the Rockefeller Foundation to work this summer collecting and cataloging Slavic-American imprints of the Rocky Mountain West.

Kimball will concentrate on collecting primary and secondary source materials regarding the 29 past and present Slavic societies already identified in the state of Utah.

"If this pilot study sees Utah warrants it, I will apply for future grants to do the same thing in the entire Rocky Mountain West," Kimball said.

Thus far Kimball has identified 183 past and present Slavic societies in the entire Rocky Mountain West. The Rocky Mountain West includes Arizona, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Utah and Wyoming.

"My interest in this venture is the SUE library, what has been described as the largest and best collection of source material on Slavic-American imprints of the Midwest," Kimball said.

Study food stamp procedure

Gov. Dan Walker has appointed a six-person committee to study and recommend changes in the state's system of handling food stamps and the fees charged the state.

The committee was formed to study the problem following a state Senate and governor's office inquiry which raised questions about a 1965 contract between the state (Department of Public Aid) and the currency exchange association.

The committee will be composed of Coleman Miller, director of Beacon Neighborhood House, 1440 S. Ashland, Chicago, a unit of United Christian Community Services; Carla Peterson, supervisor of the currency exchange division of the Department of Financial Institutions; Joel Edelman, director of the Department of Public Aid; Dr. James Buckner, a Chicago dentist; Celia Jo Maloney, the state consumer advocate; and a member of the League of Women Voters to be named later.

Miller was critical of the contract when he testified at the Senate hearing.

An investigation so far indicates a Chicago bank will receive approximately $500,000 in fees and the currency exchanges will receive in excess of $1 million this year under terms of the 1965 contract.

Gov. Walker said: "I believe it is important to find out whether the fees are excessive and equally important whether the terms of the 1965 contract, which give a favored position to currency exchanges, are in the best interests of the welfare recipients."

Free bus service to Bi-State meet

A special Bi-State Transit System bus will transport persons free-of-charge Monday evening from the Granite City, Madison and Venice city halls to Kiel Auditorium, 1400 Market St., St. Louis, for a public hearing on the Bi-State Development Agency's proposed transit improvement program.

The bus will stop at the Granite City Hall at 6:15 p.m. Monday with stops at the Madison City Hall at 6:15 p.m. and the Venice City Hall at 6:35 p.m.

The Bi-State proposal calls for expenditures of about $17,547,410, of which 80 per cent is being sought from a federal grant. Included are the purchases of new buses, bus radios, pollution control devices, garage modernization, office and shop equipment, fare collection equipment, supervisor cars and other utility vehicles.

Sorority observes Founder's Day

The 43rd Founders Day observance of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority held last week at the Granite City Army Installation was highlighted with a style show presented by Nelson Hedger, owner and operator of Lord Nelson's Men's Fashions. Modeling the latest clothing styles were members of Pi Eta Chapter or their husbands, including Bud and Charlotte Charbonnier, Phil Davis, Betsy Christopher, Mark Yehling, Cheryl Gibson and Ellen Wilson.

Mrs. Nancy Simmons served as toastmistress for the evening. She led the group in singing the National Anthem and in the sorority's opening ritual.

A buffet dinner was served preceding the style show and a program featuring slides of the benefit Valentine ball, sponsored by the Beta Sigma Phi City Council.

Mrs. Imogene Forrest, retiring Council President, introduced the guests and preceptor candidates. She also presented the 1973-74 officers and gave each a special charm as a gift.

Those who served during the past year were Mrs. Julie Gates, president; Mrs. Barbara Wagner, treasurer; Mrs. Ellen Wilson, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Donna Sprankle, recording secretary.

New Beta Sigma Phi council officers are: Mrs. Barbara Wagner, president; Mrs. Shirley Parmley, vice-president; Mrs. Norma Rains, treasurer; Mary Jane Waylak, corresponding secretary and Charlotte Charbonnier, recording secretary. They will be installed later this month.

All chapters honored Mrs. Sandy Noth Innes with a honorary pledge ritual and Pi Eta Chapter presented her with a corsage of yellow roses.

Chapters taking part in the ceremony were Xi Epsilon Chi, Theta Theta, Theta Iota, Iota Psi, Pi Eta, Preceptor Beta Gamma and Nu Zeta. Mrs. Julie Gates reviewed the sorority councils projects and plans and the closing ritual was performed by Mrs. Simmons who sang the winning song selection "What Color is Love."

Decorations for the dinner were planned by the Nu Zeta Chapter members. Arranging entertainment was Pi Eta, with program books by Theta Theta and reservations coordinated by Theta Iota.

Cradle shower for Mrs. Jansen

A baby shower honoring Mrs. Theresa Jansen, 2437 St. Clair Ave., was given last week by her mother-in-law, Mrs. Gertrude Jansen, and sisters-in-law, Misses Geraldine and Ruth Jansen, in Leopold, Mo.

The gift table was centered with a stork and canopied by a large yellow umbrella. Streamers in yellow and blue trailed to the floor.

A decorated cake made in the shape of an old-fashioned baby carriage in pink, blue and white was used as the refreshment table centerpiece. Several games were played. Prizes were infant-orientated gifts which later were presented to the honoree.

First, a million thanks for the pennies. They really helped. If any of you have any more, bring them in. We understand that relief is in sight on the penny shortage, but, exactly when we don't know, Schermer's customers are the greatest.

Second, a week ago Saturday, a customer lost her glasses in the Garden Shop. Three days later we found them; but the customer did not leave a name or phone number. So, Mrs. Lost Glasses, if you are reading the bulletin, come on down: we found your glasses.

Our produce sale last week was great: potatoes, tomatoes, lettuce were featured items and they really sold. Our meat department did well with the 79¢ Pork Steaks; and of course, this Pork Loin business has become a daily event.

Other than that, everything is smooth. Let's keep it that way.

A short dissertation on the effects of the sun on your savings. By Oliver Esq.

Every day the sun comes up. And the sun goes down. Some days you don't see it. But it does it.

Now, this coming and going of the sun has many interesting effects. People get up and go to bed. Sunbathers get tan. Flowers bloom. And your savings get richer—if you save at Illini Federal, that is.

Because, at Illini Federal, we compound your interest every time the sun comes and goes. Some places do this only once a month or once or twice a year. We do it once a day.

So the first day you earn interest on your savings.

The second day you earn interest on your savings plus your interest. Etcetera.

Then, at the end of the quarter, we add all the interest to your account. Of course, if you withdraw your money before the end of the quarter, we still add the interest you've earned for every day it was on deposit.

Daily compounding means you get a higher annual yield—for instance, 5 1/4% on a pass-book account is actually 5.39% at Illini. It means you earn from the day of deposit until the day of withdrawal. And it may even make your day a little brighter.

Hello, sun.

Steel industry calls for stronger controls on coal, scrap exports

Critical shortages of coal and ferrous scrap sharply underscore a need for stronger measures to protect the U.S. economy against the excessive drain of vital raw materials during periods of domestic scarcity, American Iron and Steel Institute Chairman Stewart S. Cort has told Congress.

In testimony before both the Senate and House Banking Committees, Cort said that "our current experience with export controls does not reflect the clear Congressional intent to prevent damage to the domestic economy from a drain of scarce materials."

He said abnormally high exports in the face of soaring domestic demand have created a critical shortage of ferrous scrap in the U.S., with a serious inflationary impact on the nation's economy.

Speaking for companies accounting for 94 per cent of domestic steel production, Cort recommended the following measures to strengthen current export control legislation:

—A provision permitting imposition of export controls whenever foreign demand causes either excessive drain on scarce materials or serious inflation. He also suggested that the Export Administration Act's statement of policy be changed to state that the U.S. can use export controls to reduce the serious inflationary impact of foreign demand in general, not merely "abnormal" foreign demand.

Cort noted that ferrous scrap prices soared 200 per cent above their 1972 averages. He estimated that a scrap price increase of 100 per cent maintained throughout the year could cost the steel industry almost $4 billion in additional costs—or about 28 per cent of its total 1973 cost of purchased materials and services. Last year, he said, because causing an inflationary impact, and which previously have had licensing and export limitations imposed upon them pursuant to the Export Administration Act of 1969.

—Incorporation of language into the legislative history of the Export Administration Act emphasizing that the threat of a drain of scarce materials or a serious inflationary impact of foreign demand is sufficient to justify imposition of export controls.

In citing the current coal shortage, Cort noted that the U.S. does not have either the physical capacity or manpower to produce enough coal to meet current foreign and domestic demand—let alone meet the potential increase in demand caused by substitution of coal for natural gas or petroleum.

In 1973, he said, domestic consumption of 556 million tons plus exports of 52 million tons was 13 million tons greater than total U.S. coal production.

The steel industry, he continued, has recommended that the government immediately institute a temporary coal export licensing program to measure 1974 foreign coal demand.

The industry also has asked federal agencies to determine "an acceptable level of coal exports in 1974 and make it known to our normal foreign customers."

Cort noted that ferrous scrap prices soared 200 per cent above their 1972 averages. He estimated that a scrap price increase of 100 per cent maintained throughout the year could cost the steel industry almost $4 billion in additional costs—or about 28 per cent of its total 1973 cost of purchased materials and services. Last year, he said, because

Accept bids for sale of building

Cong. Melvin Price, D. 23rd Illinois District, has announced that the base civil engineer is accepting bids for sale and removal of a frame headquarters building at Scott Air Force Base.

The Congressman advised that interested parties should file their bids before 10 a.m. on Thursday, May 16, with: Base Civil Engineer, 35th Air Base Group (MAC), Scott Air Force Base, Ill. 62225.

The one-story building comprises 41,680 square feet, and is open for inspection Monday through Friday between 7:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m., excluding holidays. Further details are available from the base civil engineer.

as the only major industrial country permitting "massive and unprecedented exports of this essential commodity."

In doing so, Cort said, "we have put our own steelmakers and foundries at an unfair disadvantage."

Want postal branch retained

Walter "Dick" Sparks, supervisor of Chouteau Township, announced last week he and the town board have been in touch with postal authorities to urge that the U.S. Postal Service not close the branch station at Mitchell.

Sparks said he has met with Steve J. Schaffer, director of customer services for the local post office, and has confirmed that a survey is being taken of the need to continue operation of the Mitchell branch.

Postal box customers and those who enter the branch are being asked if they feel the branch should be kept open so they could determine the inconvenience which would be caused by the closing of the branch, the supervisor disclosed.

because not enough information is available on which to base a meaningful talk, according to Sparks.

"I am sure the town board will keep in touch with the postal authorities so we may know of any new developments or changes they are considering. We will inform the public through the press and through other means of our progress," he concluded.

Credit hour cost at Belleville Area College third less than alternatives

To the Editor:

Messrs. Wisore and Keel, Belleville Area College representatives, met with the local Community College Committee to discuss the petition for the May 9 hearing to separate School District No. 9 of Granite City from BAC.

Annexation to BAC was approved by the Granite City Community Unit District No. 9 Board, the BAC Board of Trustees, the Illinois Community College Board, and was recommended by the committee of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce and numerous service clubs in the area.

Our committee is concerned about quality education and service to the students of the area and the community.

A far-reaching aspect of this is the favorable tax rate at BAC as opposed to other proposals that were made, such as our own college district or annexation to other community college districts.

BAC has one of the lowest tax rates in the state of Illinois. It was pointed out that not only is the tax rate among the lowest in the state, but also the per credit hour cost at BAC is the lowest in the state of Illinois. The per credit hour cost at BAC is approximately one-third less than adjoining community college districts. The BAC Board of Trustees has passed a formal resolution to pay all out-of-district costs of full-time students currently enrolled in other community college districts of Illinois, such as Lewis & Clark—until they have completed their program.

It was reported that work is being reported for the establishing of three extension centers in the Tri-Cities area by BAC, with the goal of offering any courses needed for which facilities are available and needs are expressed.

Initial work for the employment of area coordinators is virtually completed. Also pledged is the full cooperation of the administration and Board of Trustees of BAC to continue planning and developing programs for this area to meet any and all community needs.

The importance of responsible taxpayer participation in the hearing was strongly emphasized. Petitions to stay in BAC are being circulated. Interested taxpayers, current and future BAC students may obtain them by calling the Chamber office—876-6400.

The hearing will be held in the auditorium of Granite City South High School at 2 p.m. Thursday, May 9, 1973.

Unless the issue is settled at the hearing with the State Community College Board, there is a strong possibility of a referendum, the cost of which will be borne by Madison County taxpayers.

Formal signing of new steelworker contracts with the steel firms took place Friday.

Incident faulty, charge dismissed

Harold "Butch" Vaughn, 31, of 3924 Gaslight Walk, Pontoon Beach, was acquitted Friday of the indictment against him for the court said it could find no basis in law for the charge as it was worded.

A Madison County Circuit Court jury in February found Vaughn guilty, but a pre-sentencing motion for acquittal was allowed by the court.

The indictment charged Vaughn conspired with an informant to obtain information that could not be considered a conspiracy, the court ruled.

Vaughn had been charged with conspiracy connection with the removal of items from Gasen Drug Store, 3401 Nameoki Road, between May 15 and June 10, 1973.

Items worth $1,750 were stolen from the home of Gary Peterson, 2907 Kirkpatrick, which was reported at 11:40 p.m. Friday. Taken were 847 tape recordings, a tape player, a stereo and speakers, a pair of earphones, $8 in change and two pillow cases.

Bowman, who will coordinate the "summer jobs for youth" program in the Quad-Cities, said employers will call him at 451-5766 to get the age group and skill or experience backgrounds that they specify.

Seeks property for nuclear power plant

Illinois Power Co. last week petitioned the Illinois Commerce Commission for authority to obtain through eminent domain procedure approximately 2,800 acres of land in DeWitt County to complete the acquisition of land necessary for the construction of a nuclear power plant and cooling lake east of Clinton.

Through negotiation, the company has obtained ownership of, or option to buy, more than 10,800 acres of the land needed for the project. W. C. Gerstner, ITC vice-president, in the petition said approximately 13,600 acres will be needed for the plant and reservoir.

In a statement issued at the time of filing, Gerstner said the company intends to continue negotiations for an additional 700 acres of land which would be desirable as part of the overall tract, but which are not considered vital enough to require condemnation procedures.

Involved in the petition for authority to acquire by condemnation are 65 landowners, with 95 parcels of land.

Illinois Power plans call for two 850,000 kilowatt nuclear generation units at the Clinton site. The cooling lake will have about 5,000 acres of surface, in two arms, extending northward from Illinois State Route 10 east of Clinton, impounding Salt Creek and the north fork of Salt Creek. The company has advanced a plan for recreational use of the water and its 130 miles of shoreline.

Nov. 21, 1973, the Illinois Commerce Commission issued a certificate of convenience and necessity for the plant. The Atomic Energy Commission currently has the application for a construction permit under review.

Plans for a power plant at the Clinton site first were announced by the company in 1970. At that time it was not known whether the plant would use fossil fuel or be nuclear powered. Land acquisition began late that year, with preliminary estimates placing the need for land at about 17,000 acres.

Later surveys and design changes have resulted in reducing that amount to the 13,600 acre figure listed in the petition.

The decision to use nuclear fuel at the plant was made in 1972. The first unit is scheduled for operation in 1980, and the second in 1983.

3 zoning hearings Thursday

The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals will hold three on-site public hearings in Quad-City townships Thursday, on requests for special use permits to place mobile homes on properties.

A hearing will be held at 9:30 a.m. on the property of Eunice Harned, owner, and David Clayton, occupant of a double wide mobile home, who wants to move the unit to 5257 Lakeview Drive, an R-3 single family residential district of Chouteau Townships.

Two simultaneous hearings will be held by separate groups at 10 a.m., one at 1327a Chouteau Slough Road on a request by Marion Beckett Jr., to move his mobile home to that site in an M-3 general manufacturing district of Chouteau Township.

The other 10 a.m. hearing will be on Allen Street in the Williams Subdivision of Eagle Park Acres, an R-4 single family residential district of Venice Township, on the request of Johnnie B. Brimlage, owner, to move his mobile home to the site.

Public hearing Tuesday on Central School plan

The Granite City Board of Education will hold a public hearing at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday on a plan to deed the abandoned Central School and property at 21st Street and Delmar Avenue to Granite City Township in return for seven years of rent-free space in a new township hall, if one is constructed on the site.

The township plans to use revenue sharing funds to construct a township building on the site after demolishing Central School.

A tentative agreement between the township's building committee and the school board calls for 2,000 square feet of the new building to be used rent-free by the school district to house the special education program.

Special education presently operates from a building at 2801 Madison Ave., for which the Granite City, Madison and Venice school districts are paying $500 per month.

The school board estimates that in addition to saving its share of the $46,500 rent for the present special education building, it also will save the $30,000 estimated cost of demolishing the Central building. Residents of the Granite City School District will be allowed to express their views on the issue during the meeting, which also is a regular Board of Education meeting. Regular business will be conducted in addition to action on the Central School issue.

COMING SOON TO GRANITE CITY!

We have a lot growing for us.

Some of the freshest produce in town!

Freshness—a point in our favor.

We'll get to the point immediately. We have crunchy, crisp, cool, colorful, consistently fresh produce! In short, our produce will turn other produce green with envy. You can tell our produce is fresh by its color, its quality appearance and by handling it. But please don't squeeze the Produce! Squeezing only bruises.

How to make the best produce buy.

Buy produce that's in season. During the summer, buy homegrown items like corn, spinach, strawberries and peaches. Making the best buy also means making the most of what you buy. You can also make a good produce buy on artichokes, apples, bananas, turnips and mustard and spinach greens.

We offer the pick of the crop.

We buy fresh produce from many of the same sources that other markets have access to. However, its buying only top quality produce that makes the big difference. For example, we buy watermelons that weigh between 22 and 24 pounds. While other stores buy them at 19 to 21 pounds. Or, many competitors will buy "fancy" apples, while our produce buyers purchase extra fancy" apples. It's these little "extras" that add up to big differences.

Where does it all come from?

Fresh fruits and vegetables are brought from Florida, Texas, California and the Dakotas. We also get a large selection of homegrown produce from Missouri and our neighbors in Illinois and Arkansas. For example, we get asparagus from Belleville, Illinois, once known as the "Asparagus capital of the world." And, we don't pre-package our produce. You can buy one item or a bagful. Stop in soon, and pick up a bushelful of freshness.

Explorer program topic of Breakfast Kiwanis

Exploring the program of the Boy Scouts of America for youths between 14 and 21, was explained to the Breakfast Kiwanis Club Thursday at Charlie's Restaurant by J. Richard Hooks, advisor to Explorer Post 104 of Madison.

Hooks explained that Explorer units follow either a vocational or hobby interest line. Hooks post, sponsored jointly by the Madison Lions Club and the Madison Police Department, is a law enforcement specialty post. Some of the other career oriented posts in the Quad-Cities include health care, chemistry, auto racing, mechanics, military careers and nursing.

Hooks also showed the group slides of his post's super activity last year which was a trip to Texas and Mexico. He said that this summer the Explorers will spend a week visiting the Washington, D.C. area.

Hooks noted the 10-4 Explorers earned the bulk of their money for the trip through various projects. He also said that he had some light bulbs with him which is a current project of the post for this summer's trip.

Dr. Thomas Layloff was the program chairman and introduced the speaker. Kiwanian Donald Moser reminded the members that next week, instead of a breakfast meeting, they will celebrate their first anniversary of the club with a party at Scott Air Force base.

Expand savings groups' league

The Madison-Jersey County Savings Association League has been reorganized and expanded to include representation from the cities of Edwardsville and Granite City. Previously, the league consisted of representatives from savings and loan associations in Alton, Wood River, East Alton and Jerseyville.

Jerry Zimmerman of the Jersey Savings and Loan Association, was elected president of the league for 1974-75 and Thomas Stromske of Germania Federal, Alton, was re-elected as secretary.

Representatives from the associations served by the league meet once each month to discuss topics of mutual interest and new rules or changes in regulations governing the savings and loan business.

KA-HO LAKE ESTATES

"The affordable Vacation-type Community"

Sometimes the best rewards in land investment can be almost right at home! One great thing about Ka-Ho Lakes is it's convenient location at Mt. Olive, Ill., and the fact that you can be there and back on probably less than a half-tank of gas!

This year, when you plan your vacation, do it wisely with a year to the future and invest those "vacation dollars" where you can have something left over of permanent value, yet enjoy each vacation or every week-end whenever you want.

Plan towards the future or build towards your retirement and do it the easy way ... yet, still be close to home, your family and friends, instead of miles away in some far-off remote part of the country where, perhaps, you'll never see them again!

Ka-Ho Lake Estates is one of the rare private communities in Illinois that has separate areas set aside for campers, mobile homes, and permanent residences. Financing is available and can be extremely convenient because we do our own.

Call collect, or dial 1-879-7332 for an Appointment, and

Intercity rail state officer

Illinois Transportation Secretary Langhorne Bond last week announced appointment of Phillip W. Pelquin to head an office for intercity rail passenger service in Illinois.

Pelquin, 29, is presently a special assistant to Bond. Bond said, "This appointment is in keeping with Gov. Walker's pledge to improve rail passenger service in Illinois. The new office is to broaden the department's role and further develop expertise toward providing improved rail passenger service."

Walker has proposed an increased intercity rail passenger program for fiscal year 1975 in both operating assistance and capital programs and capital grant programs. The budget calls for $3.3 million for operating assistance for state rail service and, for the first time, includes funds for capital improvements for intercity rail.

MOTORCYCLE IS STOLEN

The motorcycle of George Yureck, 2219 State St., was stolen from the front porch of Yureck's home, it was reported at 4:45 p.m. Thursday. A chain securing the motorcycle to the porch railing was cut.

The new procedures in the "Action Plan" are aimed at assuring proper consideration for the social, economic and environmental impact of transportation projects. The procedures have been developed in accordance with the Federal Highway Act of 1970 to clarify and improve existing procedures.

Comments and recommendations for the plan—developed by the Illinois Department of Transportation in conjunction with community groups, local officials and interested citizens—will be received by the Federal Highway Administration through May 14.

After May 14, the plan will be eligible for federal approval and final adoption by Illinois. Illinois Transportation Secretary Langhorne Bond said that copies of the "Action Plan" are available at Federal Highway Administration Offices in Springfield, Homewood, and Washington, D.C. Copies also are available at each of the department's nine district offices.

"Even following final approval, the department will continue to seek public comment and participation to update the "Action Plan" to meet changing needs in the future," Bond said.
